Introduction

During the current Palestinian Intifada, Israeli occupation forces (IOF) have adopted a policy of extra-judicial killings against Palestinians allegedly involved in resistance activities against Israeli targets. International complicity concerning this issue has only served to encourage Israeli authorities to escalate their policy of extra-judicial killings; and in so doing, commit further grave breaches of the Geneva Convention Relative to the Protection of Civilian Persons in Time of War of 1949 (Fourth Geneva Convention) against Palestinian civilians.

IOF have carried out assassination attempts against activists of various Palestinian organizations, whom they accuse of carrying out or planning attacks against IOF in the Occupied Palestinian Territory (OPT) and/or inside Israel. IOF have begun to target the political leaders of Palestinian organizations. All assassination attempts against Palestinians have been carried out in a summary fashion; with neither evidence being offered to link the targeted individual to attacks committed by Palestinian resistance fighters, nor efforts made to provide judicial review of the means and methods employed and the process by which individuals are chosen to be targeted for assassination.

Since the beginning of the current Intifada, PCHR has made efforts to accurately document extra-judicial killings committed by IOF in the OPT, highlight these actions, draw attention to their dangerous effects and urge the international community to intervene and pressure IOF to stop such actions. For the purpose of documentation, PCHR depends on an updated accurate database that details all assassination attempts carried out by IOF during the current Intifada.

As part of its activities, PCHR has published a series of reports that document extra-judicial killings committed by IOF against Palestinians in the OPT during the al-Aqsa Intifada. This report provides statistics on the amount and type of Palestinians killed or wounded, explains the illegality of such attacks, highlights the Israeli government's adoption of the policy of extra-judicial killing and details the methods employed by IOF in carrying out assassination attempts. It is also annexed with a table of assassination attempts during the period under study.

This report is the seventh in a series of reports published by PCHR on assassinations committed by IOF between 29 September 2000 and 30 April 2004.¹ The period under study witnessed an escalation in the assassination attempts carried out by IOF in the OPT. During the period under study, IOF assassinated Sheikh Ahmed Yassin, the founder and spiritual leader of the Islamic Resistance Movement (Hamas). They also later assassinated Dr. 'Abdul 'Aziz al-Rantissi, a senior leader of the movement. These attacks came after the Israeli government had declared that it would target political and military leaders of Hamas and that none of them would be immune. IOF targeted most leaders of the Hamas in the past year. Most targeted leaders, including Sheikh Yassin and Dr. al-Rantissi, survived these attempts, but Isma’il Abu Shanab, a senior leader of the movement, was killed in one of these attempts on 21 August 2003.

Facts and Figures

During the period under study, IOF carried out 24 extra-judicial killings that targeted 52 Palestinians from various Palestinian organizations, allegedly wanted by IOF for their resistance activities. In these attempts, 71 Palestinians were killed; 42 targeted Palestinians, including 2 children, and 29 bystanders, including 8 children and 3 elderly people. In addition, 147 Palestinians were wounded in these assassination attempts. Of those who were wounded, 8 were targeted individuals, while the others were non-targeted bystanders. Some of the wounded sustained serious injuries.

A total of 177 assassination operations were carried out by IOF from 28 September 2000 to 30 April 2004. In these operations, 239 targeted Palestinian, including 5 children, and 135 bystanders, including 45 children, 14 women and 18 elderly people, were killed. In addition, 41 targeted Palestinians and 746 bystanders were wounded by IOF.

Assassination Attempts Carried out by IOF in the Years of the Intifada

2 During the period under study, 10 Palestinians survived assassination attempts carried out by IOF.
According to PCHR’s documentation, the number of assassinations carried out by IOF against Palestinians has steadily increased during the current Intifada, and the number of victims has sharply increased. In the first year of the Intifada, 28 September 2000 – 28 September 2001, IOF carried out 41 assassination attempts. In these attempts, 54 Palestinians, including 35 targeted persons and 19 civilian bystanders, were killed. Furthermore, 65 Palestinians, including 13 targeted persons and 52 civilian bystanders, were wounded. In the second year of the Intifada, 29 September 2001 – 28 September 2002, IOF carried out 50 assassination attempts. In these attempts, 114 Palestinians, including 76 targeted persons and 38 civilian bystanders were killed. In addition, 188 Palestinians, including 6 targeted persons... and 182 bystanders were wounded. In the third year of the Intifada, 29 September 2002 – 28 September 2003, IOF carried out 62 assassination attempts. In these attempts, 135 Palestinians were killed; of these 86, including 3 children, were targeted persons and 49 were civilian bystanders. In addition, 374 Palestinians, including 15 targeted persons and 359 bystanders, were wounded.

During the period under study, 29 September 2003 – 30 April 2004, IOF carried out 24 assassination attempts. In these attempts, 71 Palestinians were killed; of these 42, including 2 children, were targeted persons and 29 were civilian bystanders. In addition, 144 Palestinians, including 6 targeted persons and 138 civilian bystanders, were wounded.

The above diagram shows that most of the assassination attempts, 126, were carried out by IOF in the West Bank, which left 206 Palestinians (155 targeted persons and 51 civilian bystanders) dead. In addition, 177 Palestinian, including 22 targeted persons were injured. In the Gaza Strip, IOF carried out 51 assassination attempts, which left 168 Palestinians (84 targeted persons and 84 civilian bystanders) dead. In addition, 610 Palestinians, including 19 targeted persons, were injured. Although the number of assassination attempts carried out by IOF in the West Bank is higher than those they carried out in the Gaza Strip, the number of casualties resulted by these attempts is much higher in the Gaza Strip; 206 Palestinians were killed in 126 assassination attempts in the West Bank (1.6 victim per attempt), whereas 168 Palestinians were killed in 51 assassination attempts in the Gaza Strip (3.3 victims per attempt). The number of casualties among civilian bystanders in the Gaza Strip is higher than those in the West Bank; whereas 51 civilian bystanders were killed and 155 others were injured in 126 assassination attempts in the West Bank (0.40 death and 1.3 injury per attempt), 84 civilian bystanders were killed and 591 others were injured in 51 assassination attempts in the Gaza Strip (1.6 death and 11.6 injury per attempt).
The high number of casualties among civilian bystanders in the Gaza Strip is attributed to the employment of helicopter gunships and fighter jets by IOF to carry out assassination attempts in densely populated areas, which has exposed the lives of Palestinian civilians, especially children, to extreme dangers. IOF used helicopter gunships to carry out 43 out of 51 assassination attempts (84.3%) in the Gaza Strip, which killed 145 out of 168 Palestinians (86.2%). In one of these attempts, an Israeli fighter jet launched a 1000-pound bomb on a house in Gaza City on 22 July 2004. This attack killed Salah Shehada, the leader of the 'Izziddin al-Qassam Brigades of Hamas, his bodyguard and 14 civilians, including Shehada's wife and daughter.

Diagram (5)
Assassination Attempts Carried out by IOF in Various Palestinian Districts

The above diagram shows that the highest numbers of assassination attempts took place in Jenin (30), Gaza (29) and Nablus (28). The high number of attempts in Jenin and Nablus can be attributed to the confrontations between IOF and the Palestinian resistance, while in Gaza it was because IOF targeted leaders of Palestinian organizations, especially Islamic ones whose senior leaders live in Gaza.

Illegal Actions under International Humanitarian Law

Assassinations constitute extra-judicial killings under international humanitarian law and are thus illegal; they represent a distinct subset of “willful killings” insofar as they are clearly carried out in a premeditated and targeted manner. Moreover, assassinations by IOF lack a judicial process; automatically excluding the possibility for presentation of evidence or opportunities for the defense and appeal of targeted individuals.
Article 3(1) of the Fourth Geneva Convention, the overriding instrument of international humanitarian law governing Israel’s occupation of Palestinian territories, provides:

“The following acts are and shall remain prohibited at any time and in any place whatsoever:
(a) Violence to life and person, in particular murder of all kinds, mutilation, cruel treatment and torture...”

Moreover, under Article 27 of the Convention, “protected persons are entitled, in all circumstances, to “respect for their persons” and that “they shall be at all times humanely treated, and shall be protected especially against all acts of violence or threats thereof.”

Article 32 of the Convention prohibits "taking any measure of such a character as to cause the physical suffering or extermination of protected persons.” It further provides that "this prohibition applies not only to murder, torture, corporal punishment, mutilation and medical or scientific experiments not necessitated by the medical treatment of a protected person, but also to any other measures of brutality whether applied by civilian or military agents.”

Willful killings are considered grave breaches of the Fourth Geneva Convention (Article 147), and further defined as war crimes in the First Additional Protocol (Article 185). All High Contracting Parties to the Convention are obliged “to search for persons alleged to have committed, or to have ordered to be committed, such grave breaches, and shall bring such persons, regardless of their nationality, before their own courts” (Article 146).

These killings also violate numerous provisions of international human rights law:

Article 3 of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights provides that "everyone has the right to life, liberty and security of person."

Article 6(1) of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, to which Israel is a state party, provides that “every human being has the inherent right to life. This right shall be protected by law. No one shall be arbitrarily deprived of his life.”

Furthermore, the Rome Statute of the International Criminal Court defines these killings as war crimes. The Statute states that war crimes include:

"(a) Grave breaches of the Geneva Conventions of 12 August 1949, namely, any of the following acts against persons or property protected under the provisions of the relevant Geneva Convention:
(i) Willful killing;...
(iv) Intentionally launching an attack in the knowledge that such attack will cause incidental loss of life or injury to civilians or damage to civilian objects...."
(vi) Killing or wounding a combatant who, having laid down his arms or having no longer means of defense…
(c)…
(iv) The passing of sentences and the carrying out of executions without previous judgment pronounced by a regularly constituted court, affording all judicial guarantees which are generally recognized as indispensable.
(e) …
(ix) Killing or wounding treacherously a combatant adversary…”

Methods Employed in Assassination Attempts

During the period under study, IOF have used several methods when carrying out extra-judicial killings:

1. Attacking the place where a targeted person is present with helicopter gunships

During the period under study, IOF employed this method in 10 out of 24 assassination attempts in the OPT (41.7%), which killed 44 Palestinians (62% of the total number of victims), including 19 targeted persons. These ten attacks were all carried out in the Gaza Strip.

2. Undercover units

During the period under study, undercover units of IOF carried out 10 out of 24 assassination attempts in the OPT (41.7%), which killed 20 Palestinians (28.2% of the total number of victims), including 17 targeted persons. These ten attacks were all carried out in the West Bank.

3. Making ambushes or surrounding houses of targeted persons and then firing at them

During the period under study, IOF employed this method in 4 out of the 24 assassination attempts in the OPT (16.6%), which killed 7 Palestinians (9.8% of the total number of victims), including 6 targeted persons. These four attacks were all carried out in the West Bank.

Sheikh Yassin and his bodyguards were instantly killed. The other two missiles exploded in the surrounding area and killed 4 other civilians: Mo'men Ibrahim al-Yazouri, 28; Ameer Ahmed 'Abdul 'Aal, 25; Rateb 'Abdul Rahman al-'Aloul, 35; and Khamis Sami Mushtaha, 32. In addition to those killed, 17 civilians were injured, including Sheikh Yassin's two sons: 'Abdul Hamid, 33; and 'Abdul Ghani, 29. Four children were among those injured. Israeli media reported, after the incident, that Israeli government sources announced that the assassination was approved by the Israeli government. Israeli Prime Minister Ariel Sharon personally sanctioned and supervised the attack. In his comment on the attack, the Israeli Defense Minister Shaul Mofaz claimed that "Yassin was the Palestinian Ben Laden, whose hands are stained with Israeli blood," that the attack was "part of comprehensive operations against terrorism," and that "the war against Hamas will continue."

Sheikh Yassin had survived a previous assassination attempt on 6 September 2003, when Israeli warplanes attacked an apartment building in which Sheikh Yassin and Isma'il Haniya, another leader of Hamas, were present. The two leaders were lightly injured during that incident.

Al-Tal and his wife were surprised by stones being thrown at the windows and heavy banging on the door. He went to the roof to check what was going on and his wife went to open the door. When she opened the door, Israeli soldiers ordered her to get her husband out of the house, and she asked them to give him a few minutes to put on his clothes. When al-Tal looked through a window, Israeli soldiers opened fire at him. He was hit by 4 live bullets in the head, the chest and the abdomen. Israeli soldiers did not offer him any medical aid, despite calls by his wife. Al-Tal died from his injury a few minutes later. Israeli soldiers took his body to an unknown destination. The body was delivered to a Palestinian ambulance at 10:00. The victim was a father of 4 children.

Following this attack, the Israeli daily Ydiot Aharanot reported on its Arabic web site that "the Israeli army declared that a military unit killed a wanted Palestinian activist who is a member of Fatah movement in al-Zahiriya village, as soldiers thought he would fire at them, and the army did not mention more details."

Dr. al-Rantissi had survived an assassination attempt carried out by IOF on 10 June 2004. That attack left 2 Palestinian civilians dead and injured 30 others, including a number of children and Dr. al-Rantissi’s son.

Case (23)
Date: 24 April 2004

Targeted persons:
Sa‘id Ahmed Hardan, 30, from Jenin

Kamal ‘Abdullah Masa‘id, 28, from Jenin

At approximately 12:45 on Saturday, 24 April 2004, an undercover unit of IOF moved into al-Jabriyat area in the southwest of Jenin using a civilian car with a Palestinian registration plate. The car moved towards the Jenin-Nablus road. Israeli soldiers opened fire at Hardan and Masa‘id who were traveling in a car on a branch road in the area. The two, who are members of al-Aqsa Martyrs Brigade, the military wing of Fatah movement, were instantly killed. A passing Palestinian civilian, Mohammed Mazen ‘Azzouqa, 19, was also killed by several live bullets lodged in the upper-body. In addition, ‘Ali Sadiq al-Samoudi, 38, correspondent of al-Quds daily local newspaper and al-Jazeera Satellite Channel, was wounded by a live bullet in the nose as he passed by the area. In his testimony on this incident to PCHR, al-Samoudi said:

“At approximately 12:00 on Saturday, 24 April 2004, I was in my office in Abu Baker Street in the center of Jenin. I learnt that an undercover unit of the Israeli military moved into Abu Zuhair area in the southwest of the town. Immediately, I put on a press suit and steel helmet, took my camera and traveled with Mohammed Ballas, correspondent of al-Ayyam daily local newspaper, towards the area to report on what was going on there. At approximately 12:10, we arrived at the area. We heard people shouting that the Israeli military had killed a number of young men, without specifying the exact number. They were pointing at a car that stopped behind the building of the Municipality of Jenin. We moved slowly forward. I could see a civilian car stopping in the area. I saw a person sitting behind the steering of the car, and it was clear that he was dead. Until then, I had not seen any Israeli soldiers in the area. A number of people moved towards the car. Immediately, they were fired at. I saw Mohammed ‘Azzouqa falling onto the ground about 50 meters away from me. The source of fire was a house in the area, in which a number of Israeli soldiers were positioned, as I later discovered. Soon, about 10 Israeli military jeeps arrived at the area. People escaped. I remained, photographing what was going on, and Israeli soldiers did not intervene. At approximately 12:45, a jeep moved towards me. It stopped near Mohammed Ballas and I. A number of angry Israeli soldiers got out of it pointing their guns at us. The ordered us to leave the area and we complied. We moved towards the area where the (Israeli) military was positioned. We were walking alone on an open road controlled by the (Israeli) military. When we were about 50 meters away from the Israeli military jeeps, Mohammed Ballas called me. As I moved my head to respond to him, I was hit by a live bullet to the nose. I ran towards the (Israeli) military and asked for help. I passed by 5 military vehicles and an ambulance and no one offered me help. I ran for about 200 meters to reach a Palestinian ambulance, which transported me to Dr. Khalil Suleiman Hospital, where I underwent surgery. I think that the live bullet would have hit my forehead if Mohammed Ballas did not call me. I think the live bullet was fired at me by an Israeli sniper to kill me.”
Case (24)
Date: 24 April 2004

Targeted persons:
Husni Mustafa Daraghma,
22, from Tubas village near Jenin

Eyad Rafe’ Daraghma,
21, from Tubas village near Jenin

At approximately 15:15 on Saturday, 24 April 2004, 2 civilian vehicles that had Palestinian registrations were seen traveling on Nablus – Jenin road from the south to the north. When they got close to al-Shuhada square, south of Jenin, they slowed down. Immediately, persons who were in one of the cars fired at two young men who were at the junction, wounding them. Soon after, 7 Israeli military jeeps arrived at the area and closed it. About one hour later, they allowed a Palestinian ambulance to reach the two young men. The ambulance evacuated them to Dr. Khalil Suleiman Hospital in Jenin. One of them, Husni Mustafa Daraghma, 22, was dead, while the other one, Eyad Rafe’ Daraghma, 21, was in a serious condition. The two are residents of Tubas village. IOF claimed that one of the young men was carrying an explosive belt, but they later retracted this. The two young men were members of al-Aqsa Martyrs Brigade, the military wing of Fatah movement, who are wanted by IOF.
Conclusion

IOF commit extra-judicial assassinations against Palestinian field and political activists of various organizations, despite the fact that it is usually possible for them to arrest these activists and prosecute them in a proper judicial forum. This policy of extra-judicial assassination has been officially adopted by the Israeli political and military establishments, and judicially sustained by the Israeli Supreme Court, in contradiction of international humanitarian law and human rights law.

Furthermore, international complacency concerning this issue has reinforced Israel’s ability to continue its policy of extra-judicial assassinations; acts which constitute war crimes under international humanitarian law, and which the High Contracting Parties to the Geneva Conventions are legally obligated to take all steps necessary to prevent. In contravention of this obligation the United States, a signatory of the Fourth Geneva Convention, has continued to provide strong military and political support for the illegal assassination policy that Israel has adopted.

In the face of Israeli practices, PCHR calls upon the international community and the High Contracting Parties to the Fourth Geneva Convention of 1949:

1. To immediately intervene to stop war crimes committed by Israeli occupation forces against Palestinian civilians and to force Israeli to respect the Fourth Geneva Convention in the Occupied Palestinian Territories (OPT);

2. To take concrete measures to stop war crimes and other violations of international humanitarian law committed by Israeli occupation forces against Palestinian civilians and ensure Israel's respect for the Fourth Convention in the OPT;

3. To provide immediate international protection for Palestinian civilians in the OPT.
