Introduction

During the current Palestinian Intifada, Israeli occupying forces have adopted a policy of extra-judicial assassinations against Palestinians allegedly involved in resistance activities against Israeli targets. International complicity concerning this issue has only served to encourage Israeli authorities to escalate their policy of extra-judicial assassinations; and in so doing, commit further grave breaches of the Geneva Convention Relative to the Protection of Civilian Persons in Time of War, 1949 (Fourth Geneva Convention), against Palestinian civilians.

Since the beginning of the current Intifada, PCHR has made efforts to accurately document assassination attempts carried out by Israeli forces in the Occupied Palestinian Territories ( OPTs), highlight these actions, draw attention to their dangerous effects and urge the international community to intervene and pressure Israeli occupying forces to stop such actions.

Israeli occupying forces have carried out assassination attempts against field activists of various Palestinian organizations, whom they accuse of carrying out or planning attacks against Israeli forces in the Occupied Palestinian Territories and/or inside Israel. Israeli forces have begun to target the political leaders of Palestinian organizations. All assassination attempts against Palestinians have been carried out in a summary fashion; with neither evidence being offered to link the targeted individual to attacks committed by Palestinian resistance fighters, nor efforts made to provide judicial review of the means and methods employed and the process by which individuals are chosen to be targeted for assassination.

As part of its activities, PCHR has published a series of reports that document assassinations committed by Israeli occupying forces against Palestinians during the al-Aqsa Intifada. The reports highlight the methods employed by Israeli occupying forces in carrying out assassination attempts, and provide statistics on the amount and type of Palestinians killed or wounded in such attempts.

This is the fifth in a series of reports published by PCHR on assassinations committed by Israeli occupying forces during the al-Aqsa Intifada. This report documents assassinations in the period 29 September 2002 – 30 April 2003.1

1 PCHR has published four previous reports on assassinations committed by Israeli forces. PCHR’s first report on assassinations, covering 29 September 2000 – 28 April 2001, documented 13 assassination operations that killed a total of 13 targeted Palestinians and 6 bystanders. The second report on assassinations, covering 29 April – 28 September 2001, documented 26 assassinations that killed a total of 22 targeted Palestinians and 12 bystanders, including children. The third report on assassinations, covering 29 September 2001 – 30 April 2002, documented 30 assassinations that killed 42 targeted Palestinians and 16 bystanders, including 8 children. The fourth report on assassinations, covering 1 May – 28 September 2002, documented 30 assassinations that killed 40 targeted Palestinians and 14 bystanders, including 9 children.
Facts and Figures

During the period 29 September 2002 – 30 April 2003, Israeli occupying forces carried out 37 assassination attempts that targeted 70 Palestinians from various Palestinian organizations, allegedly wanted by Israeli forces for their resistance activities. In these attempts, 76 Palestinians were killed; 54 targeted Palestinians, 3 of whom were children and 22 bystanders, 6 of whom were children. In addition, 106 Palestinians were wounded in these assassination attempts. Of those wounded, 8 were targeted individuals, while 98 were non-targeted bystanders, which included children, women and elderly people.

A total of 128 assassination operations were carried out by Israeli forces from 28 September 2000 to 30 April 2003. In these operations 159 targeted Palestinians were killed, 3 of which were children, and 83 bystanders were killed, including 30 children, 7 women and 9 elderly people. In addition, 27 targeted Palestinians and 332 bystanders were wounded by Israeli forces during these operations.

Most assassination attempts took place in the West Bank, where Israeli occupying forces carried out 104 attempted assassinations that left 121 targeted Palestinians and 48 bystanders dead, and 139 Palestinians wounded. In the Gaza Strip, 38 targeted Palestinians and 35 bystanders were killed in 24 assassination attempts carried out by Israeli occupying forces. In addition, 220 Palestinians, including 7 targeted persons, were wounded.

Escalation of Assassinations

According to PCHR’s documentation, the number of assassinations carried out by Israeli occupying forces against Palestinians has steadily increased during the current Intifada, and the number of victims has sharply increased. In the first year of the Intifada, 28 September 2000 – 28 September 2001, Israeli occupying forces carried out 41 assassination attempts. In these attempts, 53 Palestinians, including 35 targeted persons and 18 bystanders were killed. Furthermore, 65 Palestinians, including 13 targeted persons and 52 bystanders, were wounded. In the second year of the Intifada, 29 September 2001 – 28 September 2002, Israeli occupying forces... forces carried out 50 assassination attempts. In these attempts, 113 Palestinians, including 70 targeted persons and 43 bystanders were killed. In addition, 188 Palestinians, including 6 targeted persons and 182 bystanders were wounded. Over the past seven months of the third year of the Intifada, Israeli occupying forces have carried out 37 assassination attempts that targeted 70 Palestinians. In these attempts, 76 Palestinians, including 54 targeted persons and 22 bystanders have been killed. In addition, 106 Palestinians, including 8 targeted persons and 98 bystanders have been wounded.

Diagram (1)

Palestinians Killed in Assassination Attempts Carried out by Israeli Occupying Forces in the Years of the Intifada
The above diagrams show that the period under study witnessed an increase in the frequency of assassination attempts carried out by Israeli occupying forces. While the average monthly number of assassination attempts in the first year of the Intifada was 3.41, it increased to 4.16 in the second year, and to 5.28 in the past period of the third year.

There was also an increase in the number of victims per month. While the monthly average number of victims was 4.41 in the first year, it sharply increased to 9.41 in the second year and to 10 in the past months of the third year.

Disregard for the Lives of Non-Targeted Palestinian Civilians

According to PCHR’s documentation, Israeli occupying forces have shown clear disregard for the lives of non-targeted Palestinian civilians while carrying out assassination attempts. The fact that bystanders account for a large percentage of those killed and almost all of those wounded in Israeli assassination attempts demonstrates an increasing disregard for civilian life by Israeli officials.

According to PCHR’s documentation, 34.3% of Palestinians killed during assassination attempts were civilian bystanders, 38% of whom were children. In addition, 92.5% of the Palestinians who were wounded in these attempts were also civilian bystanders. Such figures refute Israeli claims that assassination attempts are performed in an accurate manner that causes the least harm to civilians.

During the period under study, 22 Palestinian bystanders, including 6 children, were killed in assassination attempts, constituting 28% of the total number of victims. In addition, 98 civilian bystanders were wounded, constituting 92.5% of the total number of the wounded. In one assassination attempt on 8 April 2003, Israeli helicopter gunships attacked two members of the Hamas organization that were driving through Gaza City in a car. Civilians gathered around the car and began attempting to rescue the two men from the wreckage; the helicopters returned and launched a second missile at the car. As a result, 8 civilians were killed, including 2 children, and 53 others were wounded, including 23 children.⁴

Methods Employed in Assassination Attempts

Since the current Intifada began in September 2000, Israeli occupying forces extra-judicially assassinated dozens of Palestinians, who were allegedly wanted for carrying out, planning or facilitating resistance activities against Israeli targets. In such operations, Israeli occupying forces have employed a number of methods:

⁴ See Case Study 33 of this report.
1. Attacking the place where a targeted person is present with helicopter gunships or fighter jets

Israeli occupying forces have employed this method in dozens of assassination attempts. Israeli helicopter gunships launch missiles at a targeted person, who may be in a car, a house or a public building. In some attempts, Israeli occupying forces used F-16 fighter jets to fire rockets into densely populated areas, causing high casualties among Palestinian civilians. Out of 128 assassination attempts carried out by Israeli occupying forces, combat helicopters and fighter jets were used in 41 operations, constituting 32% of the total number of attempts.

2. Planting explosives in the place where a targeted person is present

Israeli occupying forces employed this method in a number of assassination attempts. Explosives are planted in the car of a targeted person, at the roadside, in a telephone booth, or in a house or a public place.

3. Undercover units

Undercover units are elite units of Israeli occupying forces that disguise themselves as Palestinians, and often use civilian cars with Palestinian registration tags to infiltrate Palestinian communities, in order to assassinate or arrest Palestinians. These units were formed during the first Intifada (1987-1993) in which they killed dozens of Palestinians. In the current Intifada, undercover units have intensified their activities and assassinated dozens of Palestinians in the West Bank and Gaza Strip.

4. Firing at a targeted person from inside Israeli military locations

There are many Israeli military locations and military checkpoints surrounding Palestinian communities in the West Bank and Gaza Strip. During the current Intifada, Israeli occupying forces have reinforced their presence in some Palestinian towns, villages and refugee camps. Israeli soldiers fire at Palestinian activists from military installations and checkpoints in these areas. At times, Israeli forces fire artillery shells at activists from these locations.

5. Surrounding and attacking the house of a targeted person

Israeli occupying forces infiltrate a Palestinian community, brake into the house of a targeted person and shoot the targeted individual. During and after the Israeli full-scale offensive on the West Bank in the spring of 2002 (“Operation Defensive Shield”). Israeli forces carried out a number of assassinations using this method. In many instances, Israeli occupying forces destroyed houses while the residents were still inside.

6. Using Palestinian civilians as human shields

Israeli occupying forces have used Palestinian civilians as human shields during attempts to assassinate Palestinian activists, unlawfully endangering the lives of these civilians. Palestinian civilians used as human shields are forced to stay in front of Israeli forces as they move towards the place where a targeted person is hiding. One Palestinian civilian was killed and others were wounded when they were forced to act as human shields during assassination attempts.

7. Killing the activist after arrest

Since the beginning of the current Intifada, Israeli occupying forces have assassinated Palestinian activists after arresting them. Often Israeli forces surround the structure in which an activist is hiding, such as the home of the targeted individual, and open fire on the location. After a targeted individual has been incapacitated by a wound or surrenders he/she is arrested, taken into custody and then executed. In one instance, Israeli soldiers arrested a Palestinian who was allegedly wanted, checked his identity and then executed him in front of several Palestinians who were observing the event.

During the period under study, Israeli occupying forces employed all of the methods described above in assassination operations. However, most assassination operations were carried out by the Israeli undercover unit, which performed 20 or 54% of the 37 total assassination attempts carried out by Israeli occupying forces. Nearly all of these attempts occurred in the West Bank, except one that took place in the Gaza Strip.

Illegal Actions Under International Humanitarian Law

Assassinations constitute extra-judicial executions under international humanitarian law and are thus illegal; they represent a distinct subset of “willful killings” insofar as they are clearly carried out in a premeditated and targeted manner. Moreover, assassinations by Israeli forces lack a judicial process; automatically excluding the possibility for presentation of evidence or opportunities for the defense and appeal of targeted individuals.
Article 3(1) of the Fourth Geneva Convention, the overriding instrument of international humanitarian law governing Israel’s occupation of Palestinian territories, provides:

“The following acts are and shall remain prohibited at any time and in any place whatsoever…:
(a) Violence to life and person, in particular murder of all kinds, mutilation, cruel treatment and torture…”

Moreover, under Article 27 of the Convention, “protected persons are entitled, in all circumstances, to “respect for their persons” and that “they shall be at all times humanely treated, and shall be protected especially against all acts of violence or threats thereof.”

Article 32 of the Convention prohibits "taking any measure of such a character as to cause the physical suffering or extermination of protected persons." It further provides that "this prohibition applies not only to murder, torture, corporal punishment, mutilation and medical or scientific experiments not necessitated by the medical treatment of a protected person, but also to any other measures of brutality whether applied by civilian or military agents."

Willful killings are considered grave breaches of the Fourth Geneva Convention (Article 147), and further defined as war crimes in the First Additional Protocol (Article 185. All High Contracting Parties to the Convention are obliged “to search for persons alleged to have committed, or to have ordered to be committed, such grave breaches, and shall bring such persons, regardless of their nationality, before their own courts” (Article 146).

These killings also violate numerous provisions of international human rights law:

Article 3 of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights provides that "everyone has the right to life, liberty and security of person."

Article 6(1) of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, to which Israel is a state party, provides that “every human being has the inherent right to life. This right shall be protected by law. No one shall be arbitrarily deprived of his life.”

Furthermore, the Rome Statute of the International Criminal Court defines these killings as war crimes. The Statute states that war crimes include:
"(a) Grave breaches of the Geneva Conventions of 12 August 1949, namely, any of the following acts against persons or property protected under the provisions of the relevant Geneva Convention:
(i) Willful killing;…
(b)…
(iv) Intentionally launching an attack in the knowledge that such attack will cause incidental loss of life or injury to civilians or damage to civilian objects…
(vi) Killing or wounding a combatant who, having laid down his arms or having no longer means of defense…
(c)…
(iv) The passing of sentences and the carrying out of executions without previous judgment pronounced by a regularly constituted court, affording all judicial guarantees which are generally recognized as indispensable.
(e)…
(ix) Killing or wounding treacherously a combatant adversary…”

Israel Expresses Pride in Committing Assassinations

The Israeli government openly claims responsibility for and a determination to continue its policy of “targeted killing”–Israeli terminology for extra-judicial assassinations. Furthermore, Israel is the only state in the world that has legalized the use of assassinations, a policy widely condemned by the international community.

Decisions to carry out extra-judicial assassinations are made by senior Israeli officials, such as the prime minister and defense minister. In his comment on a bombing that occurred in the Israeli town of Karkour, the Israeli Prime Minister Ariel Sharon stated that “this time, Israel will not act against Palestinian Authority institutions, rather it will act against those who carried out the attack and who sent them…either they will be brought to the judiciary, or they will be killed.” In a comment concerning the assassination of Riadh Abu Zaid in Gaza on 17 February 2003, the Israeli Defense Minister Shaul Mofaz, referring to the same bombing, stated that “after the explosion of the tank on the weekend, I said that we would act in our full capacity; it is time to act not talk.”

At approximately 02:45, on Tuesday, 10 December 2002, Israeli occupying forces, reinforced with heavy military vehicles and jeeps, moved into the al-Rabwrat area in the northwest of Khan Yunis. Israeli soldiers, some wearing head-covers, were deployed in the area. They surrounded the al-Shawakra residential community and called on the residents to leave their homes. Israeli soldiers then ordered one member of the community, Adib Shukri D'ib al-Agha, 34, to go to the houses of Sa'id D'ib al-Agha, the father of Yassin, and Ziad Sa'id D'ib al-Agha and tell the residents inside to exit the homes. After the residents existed Israeli forces ordered Adib to enter each house. Using Adib as a human shield, Israeli forces then raided and searched the houses using dogs, damaging the belongings within the homes in the process. Two hours later, sounds of shooting were heard in the backyard of the house of Sa'id D'ib al-Agha, where his son Yassin, allegedly wanted by the Israeli forces, was hiding. In his testimony to PCHR, Bassem Shukri D'ib al-Agha, who was in his house only 2m away from the aforementioned backyard, said:

"Between 04:30 and 05:00, I heard sounds coming from the backyard of the house of my relative Sa'id al-Agha. It sounded like it came from Israeli soldiers who invaded the area. They ordered someone to stop and I heard sounds of shooting. Then I heard an Israeli soldier saying in Lebanese Arabic: 'Do not be afraid! Talk to me! I do no want to shoot you." I heard a voice that I could not recognize as it was very low. The conversation continued for 10-15 minutes, during which I recognized the voice of the person the Israeli soldiers were talking with. It was Yassin Sa'id al-Agha. I then saw a military car, a Suzuki, stop in the yard in front of our house. I saw the feet of a person lying on their back inside the car. He was wearing brown pajamas. The, Israeli forces withdrew from the area. I knew later that they arrested my brother Adib, 34, Ziad Sa'id al-Agha, 35 and his brother Yassin, 24, who is believed to have been wounded during the arrest."

At approximately 05:30, Israeli forces withdrew from the area leaving a statement written in Arabic and signed by the commander of the Israeli army in the Gaza Strip which said: "To residents of al-Qarara, the Israeli Defense Force is operating in your area to stop subversive activities carried out by terrorist Yassin al-Agha against Israel."
Later, the Israeli media reported that, according to Israeli sources, “a unit of Israeli forces shot dead a Hamas activist in Khan Yunis called Yassin al-Agha, while they were attempting to arrest him.” The Israeli sources added that an undercover unit and soldiers of the Shimshon brigade raided al-Agha's house. It also claimed that when they got close to the house, “he threw a big stone at them and attempted to use his gun, which was the reason why they shot him dead.”

However, ink was seen on al-Agha's fingers, which indicates that Israeli soldiers took his fingerprints, and may have executed him after he had been arrested. The body of al-Agha was delivered to the Palestinian side at noon. According to medical sources, he was shot by 8 live bullets in the legs and the abdomen.

Conclusion

Israeli occupying forces commit extra-judicial assassinations against Palestinian field and political activists of various organizations, despite the fact that it is usually possible for them to arrest these activists and prosecute them in a proper judicial forum. This policy of extra-judicial assassination has been officially adopted by the Israeli political and military establishments, and judicially sustained by the Israeli Supreme Court, in contradiction of international humanitarian law and human rights law.

Furthermore, international complacency concerning this issue has reinforced Israel’s ability to continue its policy of extra-judicial assassinations; acts which constitute war crimes under international humanitarian law, and which the High Contracting Parties to the Geneva Conventions are legally obligated to take all steps necessary to prevent. In contravention of this obligation the United States, a signatory of the Fourth Geneva Convention, has continued to provide strong military and political support for the illegal assassination policy that Israel has adopted.

In the face of Israeli practices, PCHR calls upon the international community and the High Contracting Parties to the Fourth Geneva Convention of 1949:

1. To immediately intervene to stop war crimes committed by Israeli occupation forces against Palestinian civilians and to force Israeli to respect the Fourth Geneva Convention in the Occupied Palestinian Territories (OPT);
2. To take concrete measures to stop war crimes and other violations of international humanitarian law committed by Israeli occupation forces against Palestinian civilians and ensure Israel's respect for the Fourth Convention in the OPT;
3. To provide immediate international protection for Palestinian civilians in the OPT.
